

Agape love binds up all wounds, heals crushed spirits, and restores broken hearts.

Dear Kairos Participants:

As you embark on this Kairos weekend, we pray your minds and hearts will be open to experience the fullness of what God has to offer. All you have been through and all your wounds can be healed by one simple thing... God's agape love. Over the next few days, you will learn about this unconditional love and how it is waiting for each and everyone of you, should you choose to embrace it.

The love you will feel and experience from the Kairos volunteers is the love God pours out through them. We pray you take every ounce of that love, along with its accompanying peace, understanding, joy, and forgiveness, with you where you leave. If you allow it, you will walk out a changed person. May the Holy Spirit rain down on you this weekend and every day thereafter.
